

11-1-2015

A Sense of Achievement

Follow this and additional works at: <https://via.library.depaul.edu/depaul-magazine>

Recommended Citation

(2015) "A Sense of Achievement," DePaul Magazine: Vol. 1 : Iss. 112015 , Article 2.
Available at: <https://via.library.depaul.edu/depaul-magazine/vol1/iss112015/2>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Alumni Publications at Via Sapientiae. It has been accepted for inclusion in DePaul Magazine by an authorized editor of Via Sapientiae. For more information, please contact digitalservices@depaul.edu.

A Sense of Achievement

Our students begin their academic journey eager to learn and have the transformative experiences college brings. As they look to the future, these students have tangible examples among alumni that their dreams can come true.

This 10th edition of DePaul Magazine's 14 Under 40 showcases alumni who have found the success and sense of accomplishment a DePaul education provides. In every field, our diverse array of 14 Under 40 honorees are variously helping to find a cure for cancer, extending corporate charitable giving to worthy causes, advising the media about drug enforcement initiatives, improving the CTA and much more.

This issue also looks at the multifaceted world of geography through the eyes of several alumni. The range of fields that require the ability of trained geographers to mine big data and map pattern and process is much wider than most of us imagine. Our alumni geographers relish the high level of creativity and innovation their work demands. The geography program offers just one example of why DePaul was recently ranked among the most innovative U.S. universities by U.S. News and World Report.

Finally, we are proud to introduce DePaul's new provost, Marten denBoer, and share his ideas for enhancing the quality of our academic programs. I hope you will enjoy meeting all the accomplished, service-minded individuals DePaul is blessed to count among its own.

Rev. Dennis H. Holtschneider, C.M.

Rev. Dennis H. Holtschneider, C.M.